Deepen the feeling with coloured oil

The white pigment in this colour produces a Nordic light tone that is both fresh and contemporary, perfect for creating a modern feel in any living space. This light tone can add a sense of airiness that opens the room, making it feel brighter and more inviting. The modern touch that this shade provides brings a unique and sophisticated edge to any home. Its versatile nature makes it adaptable to a wide range of design styles, from minimalist and industrial to rustic and traditional. This shade is perfect for creating a calming and serene environment, ideal for relaxing and unwinding after a long day.

The treatment is done on white oak floors and can vary in tones and look depending on what type of wood and condition of the floor.*
