Centennial Hills Hospital in Las Vegas, NV

CASE STUDY - Hospital floor renewal

At Centennial Hills Hospital in Las Vegas, NV, the 45 square meters sheet vinyl labor and delivery room floor needed a major renewal. Standard wear and tear left the floor slippery and unsafe for the staff. The administration considered replacing the floor, which meant the room would be out of use for at least 2-3 days. They sought a better solution of floor renewal. The result – with the Bona Resilient Solution, the hospital staff was able to get back in the room within 18 hours! This minimal downtime meant an exponential financial gain for the hospital with more flexibility to treat patients.

The Bona Resilient Solution can be completed in a few days or even a few hours, depending on the square meters and condition of existing flooring. The facility's operations can be back up and running with little to no downtime disruption.
